

“First, make a reputation as being a creative genius. Second, surround yourself with partners who are better than you are. Third, leave them to get on with it.”

David Ogilvy